B

Dots sample published lines; original experimental lag locations are unknown.
Lower dots: slopes we estimated from digitized curves, not author-reported exponents.
A constant exponent would be horizontal; observed/model slope windows have equal width.