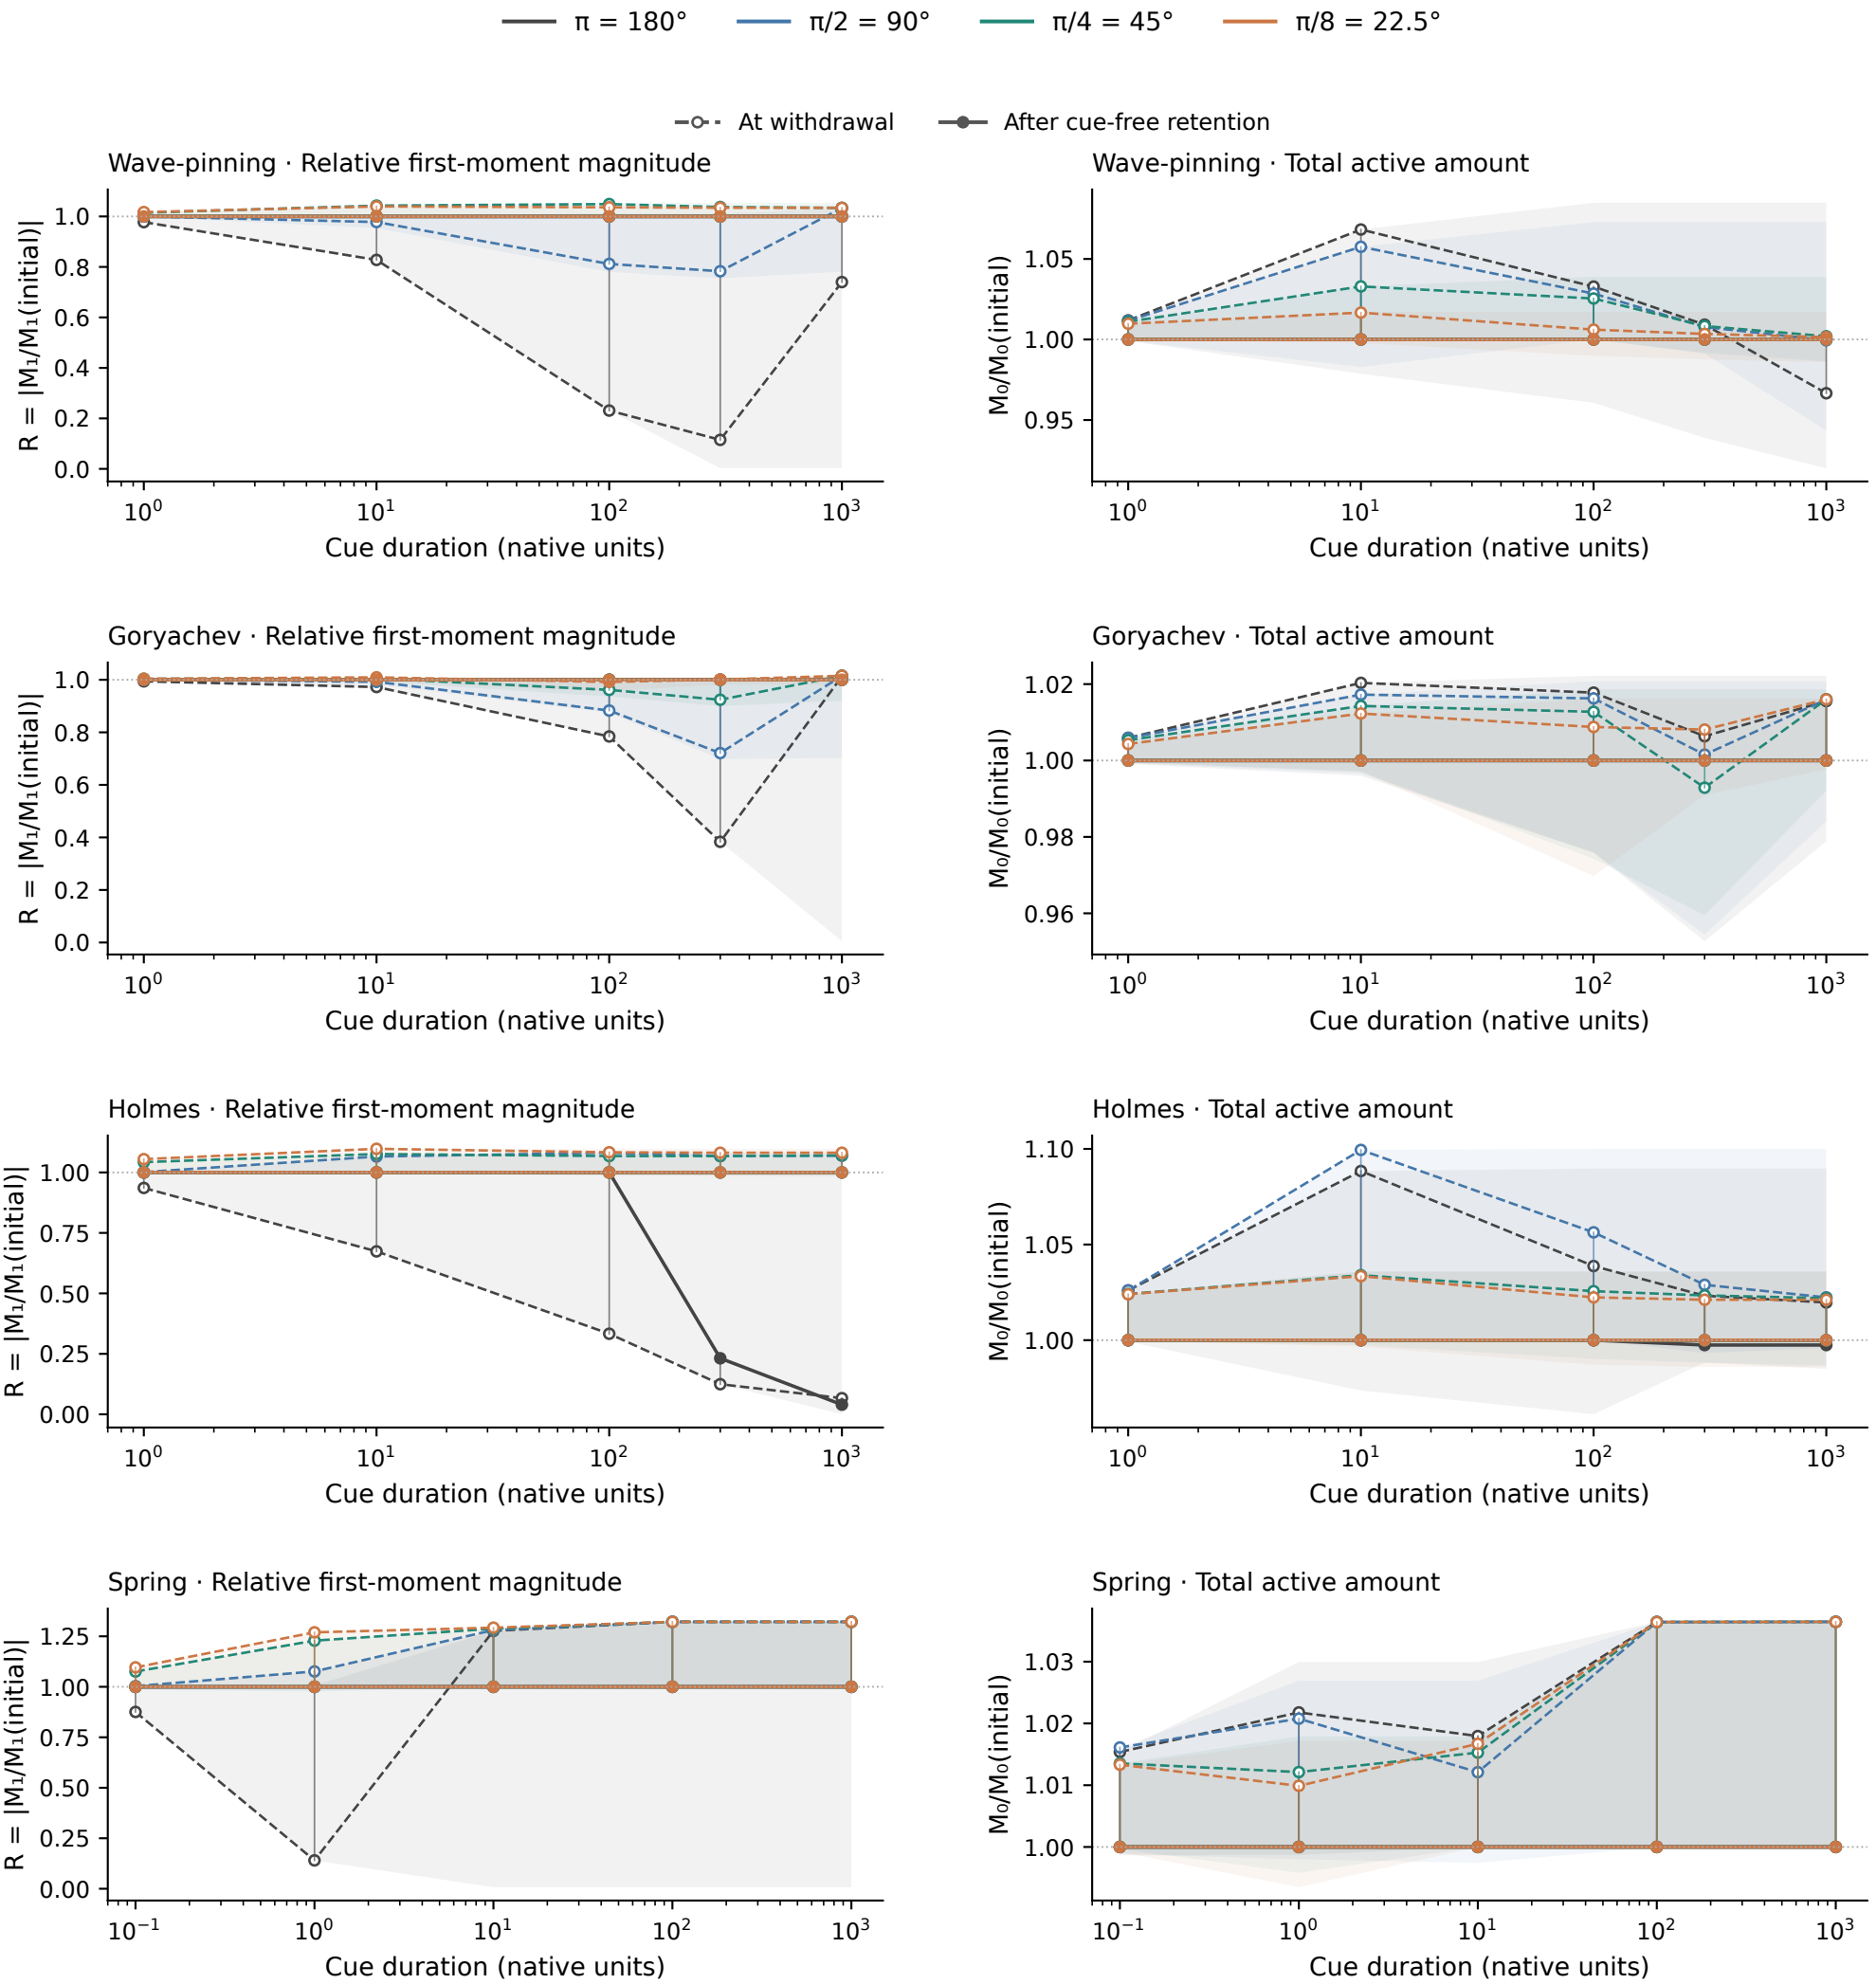
Magnitude and total activity during the same stationary-cue experiment

Both quantities use physical amount, including Spring's changing circumference. Endpoint pairs are shown against sampled trajectory ranges.



Shading spans sampled minima and maxima over cue-on plus release; it is not uncertainty. Filled final points are distinct from cue-on activity growth.

Activity amount and first-moment magnitude are separate quantities: opposing regions can reduce the resultant without depleting total activity.